Foundation English Entry Course

Outstanding preparation for academic success at UNSW Australia (The University of New South Wales)

The Foundation English Entry Course (FEEC) provides the ideal introduction and preparation for study at UNSW Foundation Studies (UFS). FEEC is offered as a 10 week course designed to assist students to develop their English skills and confidence required for success in their UNSW Foundation Studies program.

Key Benefits

• Successful FEEC students do not need to retake an IELTS or similar test, and on completion are admitted directly into their UFS program
• Approximately 90% of FEEC students successfully enter UNSW Foundation Studies on their first attempt
• The course develops English proficiency and academic study skills needed for success in Foundation Studies including:
  ✓ presentation and discussion skills
  ✓ listening and note-taking
  ✓ research and academic writing
• Highly qualified and experienced teachers understand the special needs of Foundation Studies students
• Course structure prepares students for Australian university teaching styles and selected online activities improve learning outcomes
• The FEEC is conducted at the UNSW Randwick or Kensington campus, so students become familiar with the facilities and support services and are able to build a network of fellow students before commencing their degree course
• Students can package their FEEC, UFS and UNSW degree program under one visa covering the entire period of study for all courses.

Assessment

Assessment takes place throughout the course, with regular feedback provided on student progress and includes:
• Weekly writing tasks
• Mid course and final exams
• Presentations
